

Title: How can I sell my domain name?

Subtitle: Domain Registration

Author: hejianbin

Date: 2007/12/31

URL: <http://www.powerhoster.com/domainhosting/modules/article/view.article.php/c1/3>

Keywords: Domain Account transfer registration register

Summary: Any domain name you registered with us can be sold or transferred to any party. There is no charge for this process. The party who is receiving the domain registration must set up an account with us.

Transferring the registration of a domain name removes the domain name from your list of registered domain names and places it in the new registrant's account.

Any domain name you registered with us can be sold or transferred to any party. There is no charge for this process. The party who is receiving the domain registration must set up an account with us. Transferring the registration of a domain name removes the domain name from your list of registered domain names and places it in the new registrant's account. To Transfer the Registration of a Domain Log in to your Account Manager. From the Domain Names menu, click Manage Domains. Select the check box for the domain you want to sell, and then click Change Account. In the right pane, type the new registrant's information. Click Save Changes. The NEW REGISTRANT will be notified by email with instructions on how to complete the process and assume registration of the domain name.