

Title: How do I reset my MySQL Password on my Dedicated Linux Server?

Subtitle: Virtual Dedicated Linux

Author: Jane83

Date: 2008/2/27

URL: <http://www.powerhoster.com/domainhosting/modules/article/view.article.php/c8/1274>

Keywords: MySQL Password Dedicated Linux Server

To Reset Your MySQL Password on a Dedicated Linux Server
To stop MySQL and restart in safe mode: At the command prompt, type the following commands and press Enter after each. service mysqld stop killall mysqld mysqld_safe --skip-grant-tables
To reset the admin password and permissions: At the command prompt, type the following command and press Enter. mysql -u root -e "flush privileges; grant all privileges on . to 'admin'@'localhost' identified by 'password'" NOTE: Replace "password" with your Plesk or cPanel administrative password.
To stop safe mode and restart MySQL: At the command prompt, type the following commands and press Enter after each. killall mysqld service mysqld start